Sarah Dulaney RN, MS, CNS
Clinical Nurse Specialist

- University of California, San Francisco, CA
  - Master’s Entry Program in Nursing (MEPN)
  - Master’s of Science in Gerontological Nursing

- Experience working with patients with Lewy body disease at the VA Palo Alto and the UCSF Memory and Aging Center.

- Work focuses on providing education, support, and care coordination for patients and families living with dementia through the Care Ecosystem.
Helen Bundy Medsger
Family caregiver, advocate, and support group leader

- For over 30 years, Helen has been the primary caregiver and health care advocate for two generations of her family with Lewy Body Dementia
- She co-facilitates an LBD support group, participates in the Family Advisory Council and consults for the Care Ecosystem study at the UCSF Memory & Aging Center, and volunteers for the Brain Support Network.
- Helen is committed to improving the lives of persons with dementia and their care partners, and is a staunch advocate and active participant in neurodegenerative disease and genetic research.
Advocacy in a Health Care Setting
Family Caregivers are Healthcare Advocates

As family caregivers, we often play many roles, including scheduler, financial manager, housecleaner, encourager, nurse, navigator, nurturer and more. Perhaps the most important role, though, is advocate, as we ensure the best life possible for our family and friends when they are vulnerable.

Some Caregiving Responsibilities Can Be Shared or Delegated

- Family, friend, or neighbor
- Respite care (home care, day program, housekeeping, meal delivery)
- Private care manager or fiduciary
- Publicly appointed conservator or guardian
- County case manager (mostly low income)

Healthcare Advocacy Tips & Strategies

- Organize important documents and information
- Learn about Lewy Body Dementia
- Understand the person’s needs, preferences, goals and values
- Build a “village of care” team
Compile & Organize Important Information

✓ Patient’s medical information
  • Medical history and list of current diagnoses
  • Current list of medications (name/purpose/dose/route/schedule)
  • List of allergies or contraindicated medications
✓ Emergency contacts (name, email, phone number)
✓ Patient’s ID, insurance card and medical record number
✓ Names and contact information for patient’s medical providers
✓ Legal documents…

Important Medical Forms and Legal Documents

- HIPAA Release of Information (one for each health setting)
- Advance Healthcare Directive or Durable Power of Attorney for Healthcare
  - prepareforyourcare.org
- POLST (Physician’s Order for Life Sustaining Treatment)
  National - https://polst.org/national-form/#form-download
  California - https://capolst.org/polst-for-healthcare-providers/forms/
Important Financial Forms and Legal Documents

Prioritize needs and goals

- Physical/Medical
- Emotional/Psychological
- Social/Familial
- Legal/Financial

Build a “village of care” team

- Primary Care Provider
- Elder law attorney, financial planner, case manager
- Respite care providers
- Specialist Providers
- Friends, family, neighbors
- Therapist, support group

Care in ambulatory clinics

TEAM
- Clinic coordinator
- Social worker
- Triage nurse
- Provider (physician, advanced practice nurse, physician assistant)

TYPES OF HELP
- Triage urgent care needs
- Diagnostic and routine follow-up appointments
- Medication refills and prior authorization
- Help with forms
- Referrals for specialty care, home health, outpatient rehab, durable medical equipment
- Information and resources

https://www.nextstepincare.org/Caregiver_Home/
Consider the Best Way to Communicate

- Electronic medical record messaging
- Secure email
- Phone
- Fax
- Scheduled phone or video visit
- Routine or urgent in-person visit
- Quarterly care planning meetings (long term care facility)

Get the most out of visits with providers

- Prepare & prioritize 3-4 concerns to bring up during the visit
- Stay focused briefly describe symptom or change, when it started, how often and when it happens, and if it seems to be getting worse or better
- Be honest even if it may be uncomfortable
- Advocate if you feel your concerns are not being addressed
- Accept that sometimes providers are not able to provide the answers you seek. If your concerns seem ignored, it may be wise to seek a second opinion

Emergency room visits & hospitalizations

TEAM

- Patient care assistant
- Shift nurse
- Charge nurse
- Rehabilitation therapist (PT, OT, ST)
- Discharge planner (typically a nurse or social worker)
- Attending physician

TYPES OF CARE

- Evaluation and treatment of severe symptoms, acute conditions, and serious injuries
- Scheduled operations & procedures
- Discharge plan
  - Follow-up care instructions
  - Follow-up appointment
  - Medications and referrals
  - Home health
  - Skilled nursing facility

Care in long term care settings

TEAM
- Nursing assistant
- Shift nurse
- Activities coordinator
- Rehabilitation therapist (PT, OT, ST)
- Social worker
- Director of nursing
- Provider (physician, advanced practice nurse, physician assistant)
- Administrator

TYPES OF CARE
- Short-term rehab stay
  - Full coverage for up to 20 days
  - Partial coverage by Medicare for 80 more days
  - Requires ability to make progress towards rehab goals
- “Custodial” long term care
  - Private pay
  - Medicaid, if eligible
